DENGUE STUDY

An international project to eliminate dengue fever pioneered and led by a University of Queensland research team will start field trials in north Queensland from January 2011. Bill and Melinda Gates have funded the study.